

I believe that this regulation puts undue burdens upon the telecommunication carriers. The government and law enforcement agencies should provide funding to cover the cost of wiretaps that they desire.